Clean lines with inviting comfort.

Samantha features dual lift reclining system that allows people on either end of the sofa to independently recline or help them lift out of the seat. It's simple architecture that offers clean lines and complete comfort. With a fully padded footrest and Visco Gel seat cushion, this lift reclining sofa provides tremendous comfort for when you're reading a book or watching television. Samantha's medium scale and easy-to-use hand control make it an ideal piece for your home.
